

Prospectus Chip Sampling

Who should attend?

It's essential that anyone, physically involved in any aspect of taking, gathering, chipping or cutting a mine sample, to determine the mineral content thereof must attend this course. New or first time employees entering a Sampling department, Mineral/Ore resources attendant's, Sampling chippers and/or cutters will benefit from this course. The aim of this certificate is to target the Mineral/Ore resources employee, whose responsibility or job description expect from him/her to physically take a sample. The main objective being the understanding and importance of taking a good quality sample.

Course outcomes

- Sampling methods and execution
- Importance of collecting a well-balanced, representative sample
- Consequences of incorrect sampling
- Unsupervised chipping/cutting of mine samples
- Safe Sampling practices

Entry Requirements

Minimum Grade 9

Course Duration

10 days