

Prospectus

Mineral Resource Management for Miners

Who should attend?

This course is aimed at learner miners and miners who have the intention of progressing their mining careers towards a management position in the mining profession.

Objective of Course

By the end of this course the candidate will understand the full workflow and responsibilities of all the incumbents in the Mineral Resource Management (MRM) department as well as gaining an understanding of the various disciplines basic processes, theory of discipline subjects and work methods.

Content of Course

- Introduction to the MRM department
- Safety in MRM department
- Objective of MRM for the Miners course
- The workflow in the MRM department
- The theory of MRM subjects such as basic geology, survey, sampling and grade control
- The various departments responsibilities within the MRM department
- The MRM responsibility to all stakeholders on the mine

The MRM department is made up of the following various disciplines, Geology, Sampling (Evaluation), Survey, Planning and Grade Control.

Course Duration

5 days